In dedicating this year book, it is extremely difficult to choose only a few out of the many wonderful things that could be written about Colonel Sanford J. Goodman, treasurer and director of operational services at Monticello. We will have to forego the details of his great career as an athlete and his playing on the All-American football team while he was at West Point. We can relate only how important Col. Goodman is to us and to Monticello.

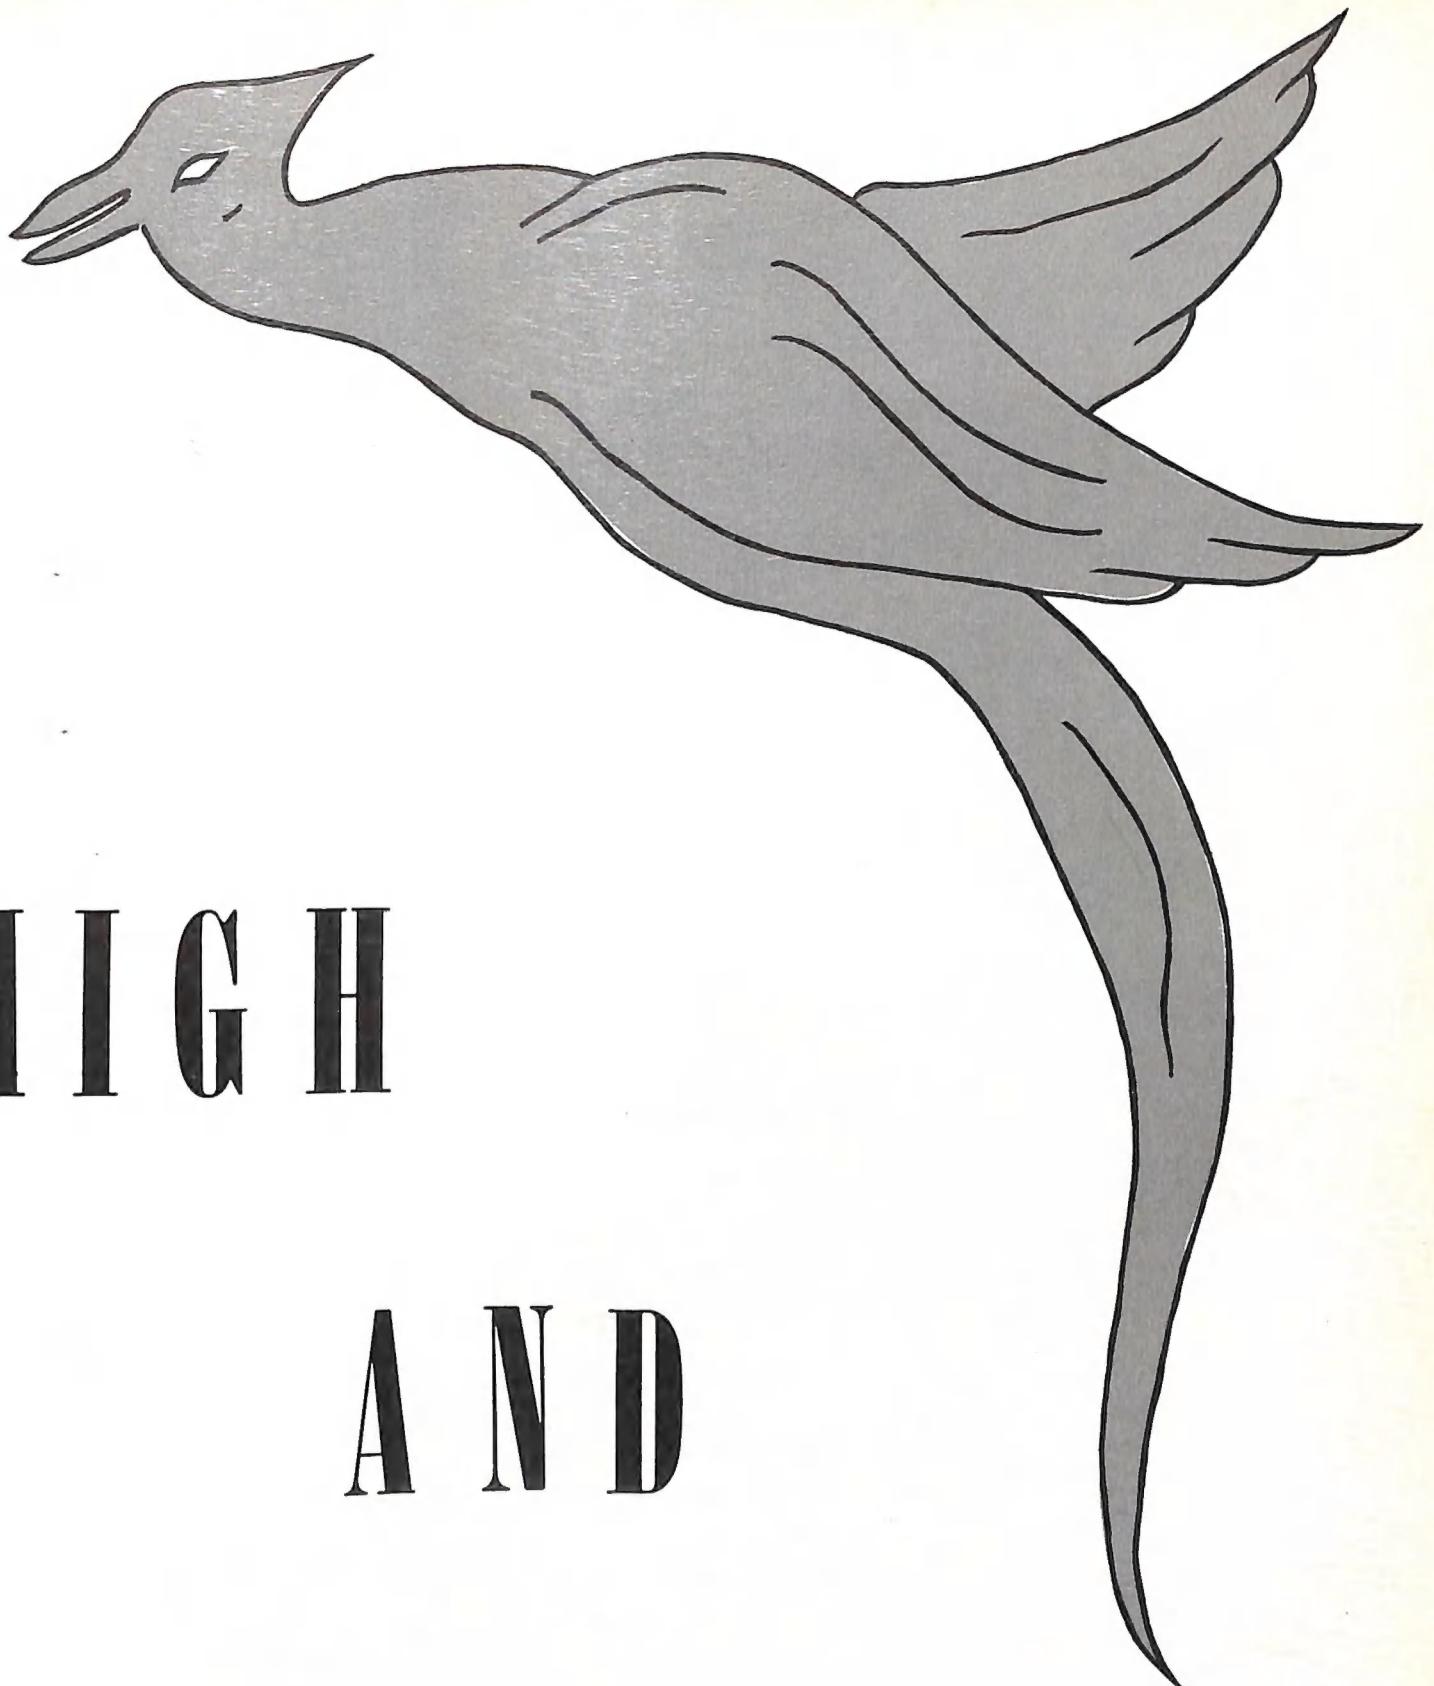

Mr. Goodman is the motor in a giant mechanism which is not unlike a Rube Goldberg invention. This mechanism has the disarming title of "Operational Services." There is a bus to take us to church on Sundays. This is operational services, and behind it is our Mr. Goodman, with pencil in hand, making an educated guess if a bus, two buses, or the limousine will do for off-campus trips. Could our meals be better? The food committee sees Mr. Goodman. We can sympathize with his budget worries and his effort to make the operation that is Monticello run smoothly on the script that has been written by the Board of Trustees.

Even when, by our thoughtlessness, we make his life a misery and his nights a headache, (who left the water on that dripped through three floors and ruined the plaster?), our stage manager can still smile broadly at us and laugh at our young humor.

We can only hope that this dedication of the Echo will, in a measure, express something that resides with every Monticello girl when she thinks of Mr. Goodman.

MONTICELLO COLLEGE LIBRARY

HIGH

AND MIGHTY

To The Class of 1959:

As you come to the end of your time at Monticello, it is with mixed emotions that I express to you, members of the graduating classes of Monticello College and Monticello Preparatory School, my best wishes and congratulations.

There is sorrow, for during the few short months my family and I have been at Monticello, we have come to have for you true affection and deep respect — and sorrow goes with the parting of friends.

At the same time there is joy, for we know you go on to new and exciting experiences, to a larger life, and to greater service.

And, finally, there is hope — our hope for each of you that you will find life's most worthwhile rewards in the years ahead — our hope that your future will be full and fruitful and that the days of your lives will be happy ones.

Among the first things I learned upon coming to Monticello were her seven ideals — beauty, dignity, loyalty, friendship, service, wisdom, and democracy. If Monticello has helped you to move more closely to these ideals, we have done our job well. If, because of your experiences on this campus, you are able to live more nearly by these ideals, your time here has been well spent.

Your graduation ceremonies are called Commencement exercises because they mark the beginning of a new period in your lives. May you enter these years with courage and humility. May you combine fond memories of Monticello with enthusiasm and hope for the future. May you so live as you tread the road ahead, that those with whom you come in contact will be better for your passing their way. For, if you do these things, if you truly hold to Monticello's ideals, you will surely live the good life.

As you leave Monticello, then, Mrs. Wimpress and I send our warmest good wishes with you. We hope you'll return often to Alma Mater. Your mark has been made upon the tablets of this institution. We hope that Monticello forever has found a place in your heart.

Good luck and Godspeed.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Board of Trustees is the behind-the-scenes producer of what we choose to call the drama that is Monticello College. They are the thinkers behind the plans, dreams and action that create a school such as ours and fit it for its role. The Echo salutes these far visioned people.

CLASS SONG

To our dear alma mater we ever will be true,
Singing forth our praises to love and cherish you.
From the very beginning, when first we entered the gate,
We knew the friendships made here
Would last and never break.

The journeys to the chapel
Where music filled the heart,
The time we spent in classes
Offered knowledge from the start.

The evenings in the moonlight
Beside the fountain clear,
Will bring back fondest memories
We will cherish through the years.

When at last we leave thee,
On different paths to go,
We'll hold aloft the honor, and love
That you have shown.

MONTICELLO SEVEN IDEALS

With hearts aware of beauty, loyalty, and dignity, minds ever striving for wisdom and democracy, and willing hands to offer service and friendship to all, these girls have been chosen from the class of 1959 by vote of their classmates to represent the seven ideals of Monticello.

BEAUTY

SHARON SMITH

Within each girl is the power to recognize and appreciate the beauty of everyday experiences. Life is filled with beauty if one is sensitive to it and eager to find it — if one's eyes are trained to see, one's ears to hear, one's heart to understand and one's mind to remember.

DEMOCRACY

LAURA ALTO

The truly democratic person interests herself in the activities of others. She seeks to understand and respect the ideals and beliefs of her associates while maintaining her own independence of thought and action.

DIGNITY

LAURALEE BRADER

Dignity is a quality of reserve which comes with emotional, intellectual and social maturity. Dignity is always reflected in the recognition of the fitness of things and in the poise and self-confidence with which one places one's self above that which might be considered unseemly.

FRIENDSHIP

NANCY MERSHON

Many of your most cherished and lasting friendships will be made while you are at Monticello. Your college days will afford rich opportunities for making a wide circle of friends. In true friendship there are dignity, beauty, loyalty, service, and never-failing consideration.

LOYALTY

CAROL KEMPSKE

One of the most important of the Monticello ideals is a deep-seated loyalty to the college, one's friends, one's family, and one's own beliefs. This deep emotion will grow through understanding, respect, and love.

SERVICE

LINDA NAUGLE

Each one of us has a distinctive personality and unique talents. The Monticello girl considers it not only a privilege but also a responsibility to share her gifts with all, thereby helping herself and others to develop to the fullest measure.

WISDOM

ANN WEES

As the Monticello girl grows in academic stature, she seeks to increase her ability to apply her knowledge usefully, for wisdom is the union of knowledge with understanding.

SOCIAL CHAIRMEN

The Social Chairmen are three of the most important girls in the school. It is up to them, with the help of student ideas, to plan the social activities of the college. This year Bonnie Cole, Linda Naugle, and Judie Proctor have done a fine job in the planning of mixers, formals, and cabin parties. Besides these activities, the girls take care of the bulletin board, with which they are pictured, secure hostesses for the tables at dinner, and check the wearing apparel of the students as they enter the dining room.

JUNIOR COMMITTEE

The members of the Junior Committee were chosen in November by popular vote. These members were elected to represent the junior class until the permanent class officers were chosen. The Committee's main project was to plan George Washington's Banquet and Ball, and each was chairman of a committee composed of the class body and who performed a particular part of the program for G. W. B.

DOLL

DINNER

The juniors this year boasted a theme of "A Tribute to Rodgers and Hammerstein." The dining room was Pal Joey, the Smoker was The Wicked Stage, and the gym was The King and I.

STUDENT COUNCIL

We at Monticello believe that democracy is another quality which an ideal woman must possess. The Student Council is based on this belief, and through this organization, much is learned about the institution of democracy. Acting under a grant of power from the administration, Student Council enacts and enforces rules, transacts business, and represents the general interests of the students so as to maintain a higher standard of social living in the college and a spirit of mutual understanding and co-operation between the student body and the college administration. The positions of president and vice-president are filled by election by the whole student body, and the others are the presidents of major organizations such as MAA, MCA, House Council, and the editors of TIMES and ECHO. The Student Council functions under the guidance of the advisor, Mrs. Florence Duree.

HOUSE COUNCIL

In order to live together as closely as we do at Monticello, we must have rules to help us to be considerate of each other. House Council is composed of students who help to enforce these rules. If there is a severe violation of a rule, the student is brought before House Council and given a penalty in order to help her remember to be considerate. The co-chairmen are elected from the junior class in the fall and then take on their duties as seniors. The vice-president of the new junior class is a member for the following year also. This body is advised by Mrs. Duree.

Sitting: Jackie Treesh, Babs Barham, President; Marg Kodros, Andy Kobberup.
Standing: Petie Alto, Ro Haren, Sharon Smith, Ann Meairs.

M.A.A.

Loyalty is another of the seven Monticello ideals. The Monticello Athletic Association gives its members the chance to express loyalty in intramural sports and in the competition with other schools. It helps each student to grow physically, mentally, and morally by stimulating interest in athletics. This association stresses sportsmanship and teamwork, both of which are needed in our everyday affairs.

The M.A.A. Board is made-up of elected officers and the presidents of the various sport clubs. Working together, they help to provide an active sports program, giving each Monticello girl a chance to participate in the sports of her choice. The Board also sets up the competition intramurally and with near-by schools.

HOBBY HORSE

We, at Monticello, have the wonderful advantage of having excellent instruction in horse-back riding and good horses to ride. For those girls who are interested in horses, an invitation to join Hobby Horse is extended. Trips to horse shows and films about horses are sponsored by this club. If one is an expert enough rider, it is possible to compete in horse shows with other schools and also to participate in fox hunts. Hobby Horse organizes the spring horse show which is held on campus and acts as hostesses to the visiting riders. Through this club it is also possible to increase one's knowledge of horses by the lectures given by the sponsor of the club, Mr. Shewman.

MARLIN

To be a member of the Marlin Club is one of the most coveted memberships at Monticello. This is because only a few out of the many who try out are chosen. This group presents a colorful water pageant each year, with the members doing individual and group figure swimming.

MONTICELLO CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The ideal Monticello woman, as we see her, has the desire to do service for others. In order to bring out and encourage this desire, the Monticello Christian Association was formed. As a member of this association, it is possible for her to do voluntary work in hospitals, old people's homes, and in orphanages. The Doll Dinner, which is one of the high points of the Christmas season, is planned by M.C.A. As a "ticket" to this formal dinner, a girl must bring a doll, and these dolls are sent to orphanages as Christmas gifts to the children. M.C.A. extends itself beyond local areas by sponsoring the United Fund Drive, whose benefit is felt all over the nation. Belief in the need for worship in a well-rounded individual led this club to hold chapel services twice a week and vespers every other Sunday night. Above all, this organization stresses the betterment of character by a closer kinship to God.

HONOR BOARD

The Honor Committee of Monticello College began their work just this year. Their purpose is to uphold the academic honor system of the school. They investigate cases of cheating brought before them and recommend the penalty. This committee is composed of the president of Monticello Christian Association, the Sponsor Chairman, the president of the Junior Committee, the vice-president of Junior Committee, the president of the senior class, the president of student council, and the vice-president of student council is the president of this organization. This year the committee functioned under the advice of Miss Margaret Marlowe.

THE TIMES STAFF

Carol Kempske is editor of the Times this year. Included in her staff are Linda Naugle, Jackie Alt, Sallie Woods, Pat Williams, and Babs Barham. The staff is responsible for the feature stories. Besides these five girls, Carol has a group of reporters from both the college and the Prep school. The Times is published once a month with Mr. Broz as the advisor.

THE ECHO STAFF

The work of the Echo does not need to be explained so I should like to take this opportunity to thank the people who have helped with this book.

My staff this year was composed of Ann Meairs, Andy Kobberup, Jane Evans, Ann Vaughan, and Vickie Skraggs, with Mary Lee Grant the editor of the Prep section. Two girls not on the staff who did a fine job are Cathy Slack and Vickie Boesch. Thank you, kids.

I should also like to thank the photographers, the publishers, and the administration. A big round of applause to Mr. Broz who served as our advisor.

BOOSTER CLUB

The members of the newly organized Booster Club have three main duties. They are to serve as ambassadors while at home to recruit prospective students, to act as hostesses at school when prospective students visit, and to bolster student spirit. The club works in conjunction with the admission office. Brenda Moerschel as president, Susan Smith as vice-president, and Sandy Mayberry as secretary head the organization. There is no treasurer as the expenses are handled through the admission office.

SCIENCE CLUB

Due to the increasing importance of science in our everyday lives, it is important for the modern woman to have a working knowledge about this subject. The Science Club's object is to help students to become familiar with many fields of science such as chemistry, biology, physics, and math. This is accomplished by speakers, discussions, films, and field trips.

CHOIR

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Bussey, has given several special programs and has participated in each Vesper Service. The members are selected through tryouts, and to be chosen is quite an honor.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Neilson, Huffman, Blair, Roskam, Lain, Wheeler, Icke, Harms, Sedlak, Sander, Bundensen, Hargreaves, Hartman.

SOCIAL BOARD

The Student Council, probably our most important group, is the governing faction of the student body. This highly respected group sets up the policies and enforces Monti's rules and traditions. Mrs. Madden is a fine advisor of this group.

It is due to these girls that our dance parties and trips are such a success. They plan all the social events with Miss Little, talk them up among the students, and decorate for these affairs.

The Preparatory School M.C.A.

M C A

The Monticello Christian Association is a group which benefits other people, as well as the girls in the club. We have both preps and college students in this group which performs many valuable services to all. Among these services are clothes drives to help the needy, participation in such things as the Alton Easter drive for Crippled Children, and giving an Easter egg hunt for young children. We give the Doll Dinner for the entire school, an M.C.A. dinner at the close of the year to recognize those who have been active throughout the year. Also M.C.A. sponsors several informal parties at the cabin during the year.

Miss Marlowe is our very capable sponsor.

Under the expert instruction of Mr. Shewman, the girls in this group learn many varieties of horsemanship. This year a hunting course has been added for those interested in jumping. A drill team has been organized for those interested in group riding. Membership in this club is open to all who take riding and to anyone else who is interested in horses.

Party Politics

KEEP it light, keep it casual—that's the party-platform for young people today. You'll notice that even the refreshments fit the ticket—they're lighter, more casual, less-filling, too.

That's why the crowd votes for Pepsi-Cola. It's the modern, the light refreshment. Never heavy, never too sweet. Have a Pepsi—to keep your party light—and bright.
